News and Events for the Students of George Brown College

Welcome Back from Summer

On behalf of the Student Executive Council (S.E.C.), I would like to welcome all new students to the college and welcome back returning students.

The S.E.C. consists of all Student Administrative Council Executives (S.A.C.) from each of the four campuses, Casa Loma, Kensington, Nightingale, and St. James. The majority of our orientation events have been planned together, however each campus has their own unique activities occurring throughout the month of September.

Our Orientation Committee has been hard at work all summer planning the best ways to make you as new and returning students the most comfortable in your academic surroundings. Orientation is not only a time for you to become familiar with the college but also it is set up for you as students to meet new people and socialize with them. We as your Student Leaders strongly encourage you to become involved in Orientation events and enjoy yourselves.

We also recommend that you become involved in S.A.C. and help us address the students needs and concerns democratically. In early October, elections at the St. James Campus will be taking place to vote in Divisional Representatives. If you are interested in becoming a part of S.A.C., please come to the S.A.C. office. More information regarding elections will be available closer to that date. Divisional Representatives will have their say in all S.A.C. activities as well as represent students on various College committees.

S.A.C. is not only an organization established to enhance College students social lives but we are also here to address your concerns regarding policy and procedure as well as academic matters. If we cannot help you directly, we can lead you to the person or department that can.

S.A.C. offers a variety of services to all students which are listed in our "What S.A.C. can do for me!" flyers which are available in the S.A.C. offices on your campus. Please feel free to drop by the S.A.C. office on your campus if you have any questions or concerns.

Once again S.E.C. welcomes you to George Brown College, and we hope to meet many of you throughout the course of our orientation. We wish you all the best in the 1992-93 academic year. Jocelyn Dance, President, St. James S.A.C., S.E.C. Chairperson

S.A.C. vs. Versa

Early in the summer, the Student Executive Council, which consists of the Executives from all four councils, raised the issue that Versa may be a little overpriced for students.

We decided to meet with the District Manager of Versa, Rob McNern, what came out of the meeting was a list of the top 25 selling items, and the 1991/92 price. Mr. McNern asked us to suggest a price for each item that is reasonable for both parties keeping in mind the fact that Versa has to still make a profit to continue their operations.

We also compared Versa prices for coffee and muffins to Humber College, Seneca College, Centennial College, and the donut store across from the St. James Campus on King St.

We hope that the suggested prices are feasible to Versa, and some changes are made. Please watch for cheaper prices. Aside is a copy of the actual selling prices and the suggested prices for the 1992/93 year.

S.A.C. once again, servicing the students of George Brown College

This is the letter that accompanied the above list which was sent after a meeting between Rob McNern, Jocelyn Dance and Mario Di Carlo.

Dear Jocelyn,

It was a pleasure meeting both you and Mario recently. In our meeting the issue of Cafeteria pricing was raised. We made the offer of furnishing you with the "Top 25" selling items in our operation in a format that detailed the past years pricing ('91-'92) and space beside each item in which a '92-'93 item price could be suggested. Enclosed you will find the form as discussed.

One of the points that both Rodney and I tried to make at our meeting was that we value the opinions of yourself, Mario and all the rest of the student body in which you represent. After all without the students as customers at George Brown we would not even have a business to run.

The whole pricing issue, as we discussed, is the proverbial "hot potato", pardon the food reference! When you and your group do the analysis of the pricing please keep in mind that after all we are in business to make a profit, albeit a minimal one in '91-'92, and that we are also in business to make the school itself a small profit.

Our deadline for submission of pricing to George Brown is August 14, 1992. Once completed can you please return the form with any additional suggestions or comments to my office at St. James.

I welcome your suggestions and thoughts and look forward to hearing from you. Thanks for your cooperation,

Rob McNern

COME & SEE G.B.C.

Great Fun, Great Success

On August 14 & 15, 1992 the Student Administrative Councils from each of the four George Brown College Campuses put on an early Orientation for first year students called "Come & See G.B.C." (formerly "Get to Know T.O.") This years event to say the least was an amazing accomplishment. For starters certain groups within the college felt that this event was uncalled for and should not happen, but by the reaction of the students who showed up and took part in this two-day event it was something that they felt should happen. Not only does this event introduce new students to Toronto and the services it has to offer they meet their faculty advisors, teachers and S.A.C. Executive. Most importantly of all though is the new friends they make at this event, nothing is harder than starting at a new school where you know no one.

Now, to step away from the negative side, let me now address the positive side. The S.A.C. (me being an executive) did work very hard at bringing this event to the first year students, and are very proud of what was accomplished. When asked, the students attending thought the event was put together very well.

One note was made on our evaluation sheets saying: "We think this weekend has been great! It really helps put minds at ease."

"The S.A.C. was a great team in making students feel comfortable and welcome. Thanks!" said another first year student. Many other quotes such as these were noted on the evaluation sheets, telling us that events like this are needed all over. This is true because after attending conferences with other colleges and universities, George Brown College is the unique in that we are the only Post-Secondary school to have a sleep-over summer orientation specifically aimed at first year students.

Smoking returns to Pubs at St. James

SMOKING IS BACK ON campus - at least for a few hours on some Friday afternoons at St. James.

That's when the campus' student administrative council (SAC) will be holding pubs they will hope attract people who were put off by no smoking and quiet music rules last year.

The 250 people who used to pack the north end of the cafeteria became "non-existent" when smoking and loud music were prohibited, says Mario Di Carlo.

Di Carlo hopes that situation may reverse itself starting on Friday, Sept. 25 at 2 p.m. when the student pub at St. James will be the only place at George Brown, outside the smoking area of Plumber's Dining Room, where people can legally light up.

The Friday afternoon timing changed from the usual Thursday, will allow the SAC to crank up the music and disturb fewer people, he says.

"We aren't promoting drinking or smoking, but we want to give people the choice," says Di Carlo.

George Brown's board of governors decided to amend its year-old ban on smoking in college buildings at a recent meeting to allow smoking in the pubs after a plea by the St. James SAC.

The college is willing to entertain requests from other student and staff groups for limited smoking rights in enclosed areas that are, like the St. James pub area, separately ventilated to the outside, says college president John Rankin.

Casa Loma's student council says it doesn't plan to ask for a similar dispensation for its pubs. Casa Loma pub attendance hasn't been affected by the smoking ban, says president Jason Richards.

The site of the pubs in the St. James cafeteria was one of eight smoking lounges at George Brown that were closed for that use on July 1, 1991, when the college submitted to the City of Toronto smoking bylaw. The bylaw-imposed total smoking ban, which the college adopted as official policy, automatically came into force following a complaint about a smoking staff member.

The complete ban will go into effect again, despite the change in college policy to allow smoking at St. James pubs, if an employee of the college complains about smoking to the city, Rankin says.

"All we need is one complaint that it's not properly contained and we have to shut it down again."

The smoking ban at George Brown affects thousands of students and staff, who have been forced out of doors to smoke. Surveys taken in 1989 found that 38 per cent of students and 35 per cent of staff smoked.

The college can discipline students and staff who refuse to stop smoking in college buildings. Violators of the smoking policy are also subject to fines under the city bylaw. Campus managers are responsible for enforcing the policy in common areas of the college such as hallways, stairwells, and caf eterias.

Lovely Information

WELCOME AND WELCOME BACK

This year promises to be an exciting one and the first proof of that is the Orientation that your SAC has planned. They have worked very hard over the summer to plan a broad range of activities and events to provide you with the information you need as well as opportunities to meet and interact with both students and staff.

As a Manager of Student Life, I have been working with SAC to ensure that you feel a welcome member of the George Brown College community. Through Student Services and the Student Life Advisory Committee, we have worked together to enlist the almost 200 staff volunteers who greeted you on arrival your first day. Many of the Orientation activities have been specifically planned to encourage interaction between staff and students, to encourage a community spirit that will guarantee a successful year.

We will have roving photographers at all events and will set up a display at all campuses in early October. This will kick off the first meeting of the Student Life Advisory Committee and will be your opportunity to become involved and help us set priorities for the coming year.

Join us for as many activities as you are able and do introduce yourself to me. Drop by the Student Life Office if there is any thing we can do to help or just to say hello.

YOUR STILL
CAMPZU

The St James SAC has decided this year to allow students under the legal drinking age into CampZu. Police officers will still check everyone's I.D. at the door, and those of age will have to put on a CampZu arm band. The decision was made because G.B.C has many students under the age of 19, who pay a student activity fee which helps support CampZu. CampZu will be featuring a number of musicians & comedians this year that all students, faculty, and administration are welcome to ENJOY.
